

The Jersey Broadcaster

NEWSLETTER OF THE NEW JERSEY ANTIQUE RADIO CLUB

June 2003

SPECIAL EDITION

Due to circumstances beyond his control, our editor, Marv Beeferman, was not able to publish the June edition of the Jersey Broadcaster. This special edition will serve as a meeting notice and a reminder of our upcoming swap meet.

MEETING NOTICE

The next meeting of the NJARC will take place on Friday, June 13 at 7:30 PM at the David Sarnoff Library in Princeton NJ. Please reference past Broadcaster issues, see NJARC website (www.njarc.org) or contact Phil Vourtsis at 732-446-2427 for directions. The June program will include a classic cinematic gem from the Robert G Flory Film Library. We will be screening the WWII Navy film "Radio Technician Training: Radio Shop Techniques". This film teaches methods for drafting, layout and sheet metal work for radio technicians. You only think you know how to use a hacksaw, metal shears, file, etc. until you see this film. It will be shown in its original 16mm format.

Reservations for our Swapmeet at the North Centerville Volunteer Fire Company in Hazlet on Sunday, June 22nd are still available.

Contacts: Phil Vourtsis, 13 Cornell Place, Manalapan NJ 07726

If you haven't paid for your space in advance, please be prepared to pay at the door before you setup. Exact change or check would be appreciated. Only one helper will be allowed per vendor. A flyer, that can be reproduced for local distribution, is included in this mailing. Note that the meet starts a half-hour later (7:30AM for sellers, 8:30AM for buyers) than our standard start time and is on Sunday. Refreshments will be available.

There will be no early admittance.
